RCRC Refund, Registration, and Privacy Policies

Refund and registration policy

Masters and junior membership in RCRC, yearly boat storage fees, and masters coaching fees are non-refundable. By becoming a member of RCRC, you also agree to make any membership, storage, and coaching fee payments selected as part of the registration process, regardless of whether you use the boathouse and facilities. There is no partial-year membership in RCRC. Exceptions from this policy may be approved by the RCRC Board on a case-by-case basis.

For classes, including Learn to Row, Junior Summer Camp, and private lessons, refunds are granted according to the following schedule:

- Cancellation up to one week prior to the class start: 100% refund
- Cancellation from less than one week prior to class start until class starts: 50% refund
- Cancellation after the class has started or no show to the class: no refund

Privacy policy

RCRC will not sell your personal information, including name and email address, to any person or entity. RCRC may share personal information, but only as connected with official RCRC business. For instance, RCRC is required to share its roster with USRowing, the national governing body of rowing. RCRC will make diligent efforts to keep your personal information private.
